Blackhawk has done it again. They've made a top quality knife/dagger that is great as a defensive weapon too. The XFS Punch Dagger was designed to be worn around the neck or you can modify it and wear around your belt. The XFS Dagger also comes with a quality sheath for safe storage.

The XFS is made of high quality metal and also has a quick non-slip grip. The dagger can be manipulated with two fingers and holds solid in the user's hand. I work this item for a few weeks on patrol and SWAT training. Its light weight and overall a good piece of equipment.

I would definitely recommend owning this dagger and I will make sure to wear this often as part of my equipment.

The Blackhawk "XSF Punch Dagger" is an outstanding piece of duty gear and I highly recommend it for both on duty work and off-duty. The punch dagger is light weight and easy to conceal worn as chain. I was surprised how light weight and easy it was to secure the dagger in its plastic case for a fast pull and punch deployment.

The dagger handle allows for an easy grab and control as it is remove the plastic case. The blade is light weight yet strong and has a very sharp point. The blade was not to long and has a nice sharp cutting surface and a strong point. The plastic holding case is well made and has a lipped edge that allows for easy assess while trying to return the blade into the case.

I was also impressed with how easy and smooth it was to return the dagger into the case and feel it lock into place.

As a defensive last resort weapon it works with its light construction and easy ability to conceal it. The dagger is a very nice Blackhawk product with some excellent workmanship put into it.
